WALMSLEY SAYS DEFEAT DOESN'T INTIMIDATE HIM

Orleans Mayor Comments
On Recent Election In New York

MENTIONS JURY PROBE

Charges Loom Against Long Aides, Official
Declares

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—“We were not in the least intimidated by the result of the recent election.” That was the answer of T. Semmes Walmsley, mayor of New Orleans, to a flurry of questions as he stepped off the train today.

“Huey Long has succeeded in out-voting us before,” he said, “but he has never defeated us, and he won’t this time. When we finish with the grand jury investigation there will probably be some indictments.”

Some one asked if charges were to be brought against Senator Long. “No, not against the Kingfish,” Mayor Walmsley replied, “but against members of the Long machine. On our side we have nothing to fear from Long’s so-called investigation of the city of New Orleans. We could have obtained an injunction against the investigation but we didn’t bother. Our hands are clean. Long stole the election, but he won’t accomplish anything by probing.”

The dapperly dressed city executive said that he had come to New York to preside over a meeting of the United States Council of Mayors, and announced that the two most important questions up for discussion were unemployment insurance and old age pensions.

“I am in favor of both,” he said, “and I believe a plan of cooperation between the federal government and local authorities can be worked out whereby both can be put into effect.” He was asked about the charges made by members of the Long faction in Louisiana that New Orleans had been unable to handle its own relief problem.

“That is nonsense,” he said. “The federal authorities asked us if we could provide for our own relief and we said we could. We have. Long tried to take the funds we had raised for city relief for general state purposes but he didn’t get away with it. Glad to have seen you, gentlemen.”

With which, Mr. Walmsley took his wife off to breakfast.

Lid Is Clamped Tight On Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20.—(P)—The threat of the militia today hung menacingly over gambling interests of the New Orleans area and not even a nickel could be bet in a dice game which used to be seen sometimes late at night in the alley before Senator Huey P. Long came to town.

Partial martial law orders issued by Governor O. K. Allen, Long’s ally, in the recent election here, reportedly closed the doors of every resort of chance in St. Bernard and Jefferson parishes, outside the city limits, and every casino door was darkened.

Most of the big nearby palaces of chance have remained closed during the vice crusade of the senator and his legislative committee in New Orleans, but it was reported that at least two of the houses had been running the risk of the blockade.

Sham orders were issued last night from headquarters and all gambling in the New Orleans area supposedly ceased.

One of the governor’s martial law orders directed the militia to “investigate” such places where gambling was suspected and this brought on the fear of raids and confiscation.

The “Kingfish” sat back today and grinned satisfaction over the success of his drive to rid New Orleans of

Textile World's Eyes Fixed On Hyde Park

STRANGE MESSAGE MAY BE FROM THE MYSTERIOUS JINKY

“XZY, frsty, ddfes, zpkqig, rye, circle, corn tiggie, open, long.” This message was received by the editor Thursday just before press time and, as no one on the paper could decipher it, we are publishing the message, just as we received it. We hope that some one in Monroe understanding the early Norwegian language can let us into the secret.

If there is any one in Monroe who was in the intelligence department during the World war he may be able to translate the message.

As there is no signature to it, our only clue is that it must be from the Jinky man.

The phone rings again and again and still we are in the dark on this Jinky business. Graciously, we wish that the thing would hurry and break, so we could get back to our own worries.

Jes' Ramblin' ABOUT THE TOWN

Aptly illustrating the reluctance of folks a few decades ago to give way before modern inventions is this story told by a well known local druggist, whose name is omitted for obvious reasons: The druggist's father was elected a member of the Mississippi state legislature. After attending his initial session of the body, he went back to his home town and told the folks that ice was made in the summer at Jackson. They scoffed. They became indignant that such stories should be told. The following Sunday, the hapless legislator, by unanimous vote of the members of the church, was turned out of the institution in disgrace. The solemn proceeding for a hearing and after much insistence on his part, the church appointed a committee of three brethren to go to Jackson to see if ice really was manufactured in the summer. The committee returned and verified the legislator's story. But, lo and behold, at the next Sunday's services, all three of the committee members likewise were deprived of their church membership, the druggist related with a chuckle. Which proves that Missourians are not the only ones who have to be shown!

Dear Jes' Ramblin': Here is a problem that has been bothering me for a long time. Although it is evident that this could not actually happen, it is a type of problem which, from a scientific standpoint, can be considered to have a definite result. The problem: Three snakes, equal in every respect, take hold of one another's tails with their mouths, forming a circle. At the same time and rate of speed each begins to swallow the snake in front, starting with the tail. Imagining that the snakes continued to live, what would become of them? Would they disappear completely? If one digested the other what would become of the remains? Under the principle of conservation of matter something must be left at the end. What this I leave to the readers of Jes' Ramblin'.

SANFORD CHARGED IN DEATH OF ROY

Manslaughter Count Is Filed Following Fight
Over Livestock

A warrant charging manslaughter had been sworn out Thursday against Volvie Sanford, 38, living in ward six in Old Beulah community, in connection with the killing Tuesday night of Lawrence Roy, 50, Sanford's neighbor, in what the latter said was a fist fight.

It was Sanford's contention that he had no intention of killing Roy and that he only struck him once with his fist, after Roy had drawn back as if to strike him. Roy never regained consciousness after he had been struck and died at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning at his home.

Dr. C. L. Mengis, parish coroner, who held an autopsy, said he found two severe wounds on Roy's head, one of which apparently could not have been caused by a fist blow. Mrs. Roy testified that she heard two blows as a culmination of a dispute between her husband and Sanford over livestock.

The two men had been good friends in the community for many years, and were said never to have had a previous quarrel.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 20.—(P)—A blood-stained handkerchief bearing the initial “D” and what appear to be blood stains on the street near 5-year-old Dorothy Distelhurst's home, spurred police today in their efforts to solve the mystery of the child's disappearance.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 20.—(P)—The state bacteriologist, Dr. William Litterer, today examined stains found on a roadway near the home of the missing six-year-old Dorothy Ann Distelhurst, to determine if they were made by her blood.

The child disappeared yesterday afternoon while en route to her home from kindergarten. The stains on the pavement of Scott avenue began with small spots, dripping for more than 5 feet along the roadway, and ended in a large blot.

A segment of the road pavement was taken to Dr. Litterer by police. He said his analysis could not be completed before tomorrow.

After the discovery of the stains, searching parties again were being organized on the theory that the child may have been killed accidentally and her body secluded in the vicinity.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 20.—(P)—Over five square miles of suburban east Nashville weary-eyed hundreds searched today for little Dorothy Distelhurst, lost or kidnaped.

United States department of justice agents are working on the six-year-old child's disappearance in the belief that she may have been abducted.

Substantiating evidence to this theory was developed early today with the report that a strange automobile was seen in the neighborhood of where the girl was last noticed about noon yesterday.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Distelhurst was seen by a neighbor, Miss Louis Underwood, as she walked home from a private kindergarten about 1:15 p. m.

ARREST IS MADE IN MILK WAR IN MONROE SECTION

Jersey Gold Manager Accused Of Violating City Milk Ordinance

One of the principal developments Thursday in the milk war between producing dairymen of this area and the two plant dairies of Monroe was the arrest of Ernest Cole, local manager of the Jersey Gold Creameries, Inc., 2303 South Grand street, on a charge of violating the city milk ordinance.

After being taken into custody by police on a warrant sworn out by Arthur West, city sanitary inspector, Mr. Cole was released on bond of $200.

The provision of the city ordinance which the warrant charged had been violated was that requiring that all pasteurized milk sold in the city of Monroe must be pasteurized in Ouachita parish.

Regarding the situation, Dr. J. W. Harjes.

Leche Assumes Duties As Appeal Court Judge

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20.—(P)—Richard W. Leche, until yesterday secretary to Governor Oscar K. Allen, today began his duties as judge of the court of appeals of Orleans parish to complete the unexpired term of Judge Archibald T. Higgins, now sitting as associate justice of the state supreme court.

HEIRESS WEDS AND WANDERS ON

This heiress and the mate who came to her on the open road are headed for California to make their own way—with a monthly allowance from the bride's father. Virginia Ewing Gates, 23, and her new husband, Dan McCafferty, 26, wrestler-laborer, first met at a rodeo dance. They met again in Boise recently, after the girl, daughter of T. S. Gates, former Morgan partner and president of the University of Pennsylvania, vanished from a dude ranch and went hitch-hiking. A few days later they were wed in Moscow, Idaho.

78 JAP AIRSHIPS REACH HSINKING AFTER LONG TRIP

Mass Maneuver Made
After Manchukuo Protests To Russia

TOKYO, Sept. 20.—(P)—A successful flight of 78 Japanese military airplanes across the 450 miles of space from Dairen to Hsinking, Manchukuo, was reported today by the Hsinking correspondent of the newspaper Asahi.

The complete fleet was in Hsinking at 3:35 p. m. today after overcoming head winds which spoiled their formation but did not interfere with the success of the movement.

The head winds caused 21 of the ships to run low on fuel and land at Liaoyang, where they refueled and caught up with the advance part of the fleet.

The mass maneuver was made shortly after Manchukuo sent a protest to Soviet Russia.

An official denial was made here that the planes were sent as a result of difficulties with the Soviet. Instead, it was said, the action was a gesture of friendship and congratulation to Emperor Kang Teh of Man-

Proletarians Have Better Time Than John Astor 3rd

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—Some 2,500 inquisitive proletarians had a much better time at a society wedding yesterday than did John Jacob Astor III.

It needed 20 policemen to keep them in their place, which was the sidewalk in front of the Church of Heavenly Rest, because their manners were not always according to the book.

Mr. Astor, who has been perturbed of late by published accounts to the effect that he and his bride quarreled publicly at Providence, R. I., (“Ridiculous,” Mrs. Astor called the report) was the object of the proletarian eyes.

He arrived alone, his wife (the former Ellen Tuck French) being a bridesmaid, and he frowned to the assembled people. There were some cheers, which he elected to ignore.

He sat alone in a rear pew while Miss Joan Blake was being united in matrimony to Mr. Henry Herman Harjes.

PRESIDENT MEETS PERKINS, WINANT FOR CONFERENCE

Luncheon Confab Held At Summer White House
In New York

REPORT IS SUBMITTED

Strike Centers Are Quiet
After Sporadic Rows
Wednesday

(By Associated Press)

The textile world anxiously awaited reports from a luncheon conference Thursday at Hyde Park, the summer White House.

President Roosevelt, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and Governor John G. Winant of New Hampshire, chairman of the president's textile mediation board, were to meet at the conference table.

Confronting them was labor's threat to spread the strike to 100,000 more textile workers unless a settlement is reached this week. Two things were uppermost in the public mind: The mediation board's report, and possible steps toward settlement.

Textile centers for the most part were quiet after sporadic outbreaks of disorder Wednesday, but threats of violence lingered.

North Carolina prepared to bury the strike's thirteenth victim, Ernest K. Riley, 40-year-old striker and father of ten children, who died of a stab wound after a melee Tuesday night at Belmont, N. C.

Vigilante committees were on duty in Belmont and in Lexington, N. C., where strikers and workers clashed Wednesday as a silk mill re-opened.

Forty militia units patrolled in the Carolinas. Demoralization of troops continued in Connecticut, but in Maine, a howitzer unit of the national guard was ordered to Waterville.

A soldier was injured at Waterville last night when strike sympathizers stoned troops on duty at the Lockwood Manufacturing company's cotton plant. The outbreak followed a bitter fight between police and 200 strikers, 16 hours earlier.

The Woonsocket Rayon company plant at Woonsocket, R. I., re-opened without disorder. The plant closed last week after rioting in which two persons were killed and several injured.

Police at Saylesville, R. I., said two workers' homes were stoned Thursday. Last week Saylesville was the scene of a riot in which one person was killed and several wounded.

Thirty-four strikers were held in jail in Macon, Ga., after a tear gas

Whether Act May Be

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(P)—Attorneys for the agricultural adjustment administration are examining the Bankhead cotton control act to determine whether it can be suspended for a year and their report will be made Saturday at a meeting which probably will determine what action is to be taken in face of the short 1934 crop.

Southern congressional leaders are pleading for relief of small farmers. Senators and representatives from cotton states will meet with Secretary Wallace Saturday and the report of the attorneys will be given them.

If the lawyers find the law cannot be suspended, indications were that the AAA might recommend to President Roosevelt a termination of the Association Directors Vote Down Farm Strike

DES MOINES, Sept. 20.—(P)—The board of directors of the National Farmers' Holiday association today unanimously decided that a farmers' strike would not be called at this time. Milo Reno, president of the association, announced.

Reno said that a discussion of the subject brought out that the farmers had nothing to sell and that they had nothing to gain by striking at this time.

The threat of an agricultural strike in Iowa still obtained, however, as the annual convention of the Iowa farmers' union considered a suggestion that the 4,551 members of the organization in the state launch a strike.

SUSPECT ARRESTED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(P)—Arrest of Richard Hauptmann in New York City in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping was announced today by Attorney General Cummings.

Cummings said “Hauptmann is known to have passed some of the Lindbergh ransom money and to have had a substantial amount of it in his home at the time of his arrest.”

Cummings said that a full announcement on the matter would be issued by Police Commissioner O'Ryan in New York City.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the department's division of investigation, who handled the climax of the case in New York was in telephonic communication with the attorney general during the luncheon hour.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—Police announced today they have in custody the man who received the $50,000 ransom money paid by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in an ineffectual effort to recover his kidnapped son two years ago.

The man is Bernard Richard Hauptmann of 1279 East 222nd street, the Bronx.

The announcement said the man is an alien and came to this country as a stowaway eleven years ago.

STEPS TAKEN TO REVIVE ACTIVITY OF MUSIC GROUP

Campaign To Enlist Members Will Be Launched Monday

Plans for the revival of activities of the Monroe Civic Music association, which has been dormant since the season of 1930-31 sponsored the appearance of nationally famous musical artists in this city, will be discussed at a meeting to be held at 7:30 tonight in the chamber of commerce rooms in Hotel Virginia.

A campaign to enlist memberships in the organization is expected to begin next Monday, when all persons interested in the cultural welfare of Monroe and its adjoining communities will be invited to participate in an effort to bring several important concerts and recitals to this city during the coming fall and winter.

Under the plan of the Civic Music association revenues derived from the membership fees will be used to defray the expenses incurred in bringing the artists here. It is hoped, according to announcement by Albert Horuff, serving as chairman of the organization committee, to enlist 1,000 music lovers in the membership. If this goal is reached it would mean, Mr. Horuff said, the appearance of some of the most noted artists and musical groups in the country in Monroe this season.

The Monroe Kiwanis club, the Lions club and other civic organizations have pledged their cooperation in making the plans for the music revival under the auspices of the association a success.

'APE-MAN' MORON IS BEING HUNTED

Straight-Shooting Police
Women Set Out To Pick Up Trail

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—(P)—Two straight-shooting police women set out to pick up the trail of an “ape-man” moron.

For several days he has terrified women in several northside districts—dropping suddenly in their path from the lower limbs of trees where he waits. So shocked have the women been who have seen him, that the descriptions given police are confusing and contradictory.

But early yesterday—and police said they believed it may be the same man—a short stock man of about 24 accosted six girls homeward bound from a club meeting.

Without a word, he lashed out with a pen-knife and fled. Miss Marie Griffin, 19, an attractive stenographer, clutched at her throat, and screamed. Five stitches were taken at a hospital to close the wound.

Supervising Captain John Horan assigned extra men to six districts and selected two police women as decoys. He said he would read the “ape man's” description to all officers at roll call.

LAWYER TO FILE SUIT AT CAPITAL WITHOUT DELAY

Deposed Committee

NOMINATION CLAIMED

State Supreme Tribunal
Election Termed ‘No Contest’

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 20.—(P)—T. Arthur Edwards of Lake Charles, deposed as chairman of the supreme court third district committee after he ruled Judge Thomas F. Porter, nominee for the high tribunal following the death of the judge's only primary opponent, came to Baton Rouge today to open Porter's legal fight for the nomination in the face of Senator Huey P. Long's determined opposition.

Edwards, attorney for Porter, planned to file suit without delay in East Baton Rouge district court supporting the Lake Charles jurist's claim to the nomination, but withheld comment regarding the nature of the contemplated action pending actual filing.

He declared Porter, political enemy of Senator Long, the nominee for the supreme court from the third district after Porter's opponent, Justice Winston Overton, died three days before the September 11 primary.

Edwards claimed that under the law Porter became the nominee without opposition.

The district committee, however, at Senator Long's direction, declared the September 11 primary “no contest” and set October 9 as date for a “new primary” after removing Edwards as chairman.

RADIO OPERATOR GIVES TESTIMONY ABOUT DISASTER

Alagna Declares He Had To Plead With Warnings
To Send SOS

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—George I. Alagna, first assistant radio operator of the Morro Castle, testified before a federal inquiry board today that officers and crew of the burned vessel were advised after the tragedy to “co-operate with the Ward line and good care will be taken of you.”

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—The federal board investigating the Morro Castle disaster today heard First Assistant Radio Operator George I. Alagna charge that Acting Captain W. F. Wams ordered an SOS sent from the burning ship only after “strong pleading” on Alagna's fifth trip to the ship's bridge for instructions.

Alagna described conditions on the bridge as “unintelligible and confused.” He said Capt. Wams “just kept going” and he had to follow him about and then doubted if the captain recognized him.

The man at the wheel, Alagna testified, just turned the wheel around and around as though it was out of order and that by the time he had made his fourth trip to the bridge, the wheel had been abandoned.

Finally, he said, he saw Capt. Wams leaving over the bridge rail to the foredeck and he exclaimed to George Rogers, chief operator who had joined him after sending the SOS:

“Look at the yellow rat leaving us here—deserting us.”

Alagna, whose testimony has been awaited with eagerness because of charges he is understood to have made before a federal grand jury investigating the disaster, told a story of smoke and leaping flames and fire

ROGERS HAS HIS SAY

EDINBURGH, Sept. 20.—(Special)—You get these Scotchmen wrong, why they are the most liberal and hospitable people you ever saw. Course I have to carry an interpreter to tell me what they say, but they are awfully friendly.

Grouse is Scotland's principal export. You got to rent a castle then rent some drivers to drive the grouse by the castle, then the grouse has been shot at so much they know just about who can hit 'em and who can't. It's a racket and the grouse and the Scotchmen work together and the Americans and the English pay the bill.

GRACE AFTER DROUTH
When from Thy hand a bounteous board,
Bright from the reaping, blest my board,
Did I not thank Thee, Lord?

Now that the harvesting is spare,
Accept for this more frugal fare
As generous a prayer.

For just as nature's ample yield
In other years, from fold and field,
Thine opulence revealed.

So now these lesser fruits of earth,
Meagrely garnered, by their death,
Teach what Thy gifts are worth.

A well attended program meeting was held at the church Tuesday afternoon, by the women of the Methodist Missionary society, circle nine, in charge, Mrs. W. A. Walker, circle leader, presiding. The devotional was conducted by Miss Sadie Foster, who selected the sixth chapter of Galatians for the scripture reading. This service was closed by prayer offered by Mrs. J. L. Benson. A pleasing number on the program was a solo, "Thy Guidance, Lord," by Mrs. Dean Solig, accompanied by Mrs. John Sholars.

An interview with the Rural Deacons, was cleverly presented in a playlet, by the following ladies: Miss Sadie Foster, Miss Willie Mae Porter, Mrs. J. T. Benson, Mrs. C. P. Andrews, Mrs. C. E. McKenzie, Mrs. R. B. Arant, Mrs. Clyde Mauldin.

Mrs. Sam Collins read the missionary news, after which Mrs. A. R. Holloway made several important announcements. The meeting was closed with a song, "Oh Where Are The Reapers," by the assemblage. Miss Elizabeth Langford led in prayer.

Friends extend their sincere sympathy to Mrs. Truand Breard in the loss of her mother, Mrs. C. A. Villars, whose death occurred in New Orleans on the nineteenth of September. Illness prevented Mrs. Breard from attending the interment.

Mrs. Pearl Griffin and two sons, Messrs. Spivey and Ransom Griffin and daughter, Mrs. Grady Morton, have returned from Chicago where they visited the Century of Progress Exposition.

Mr. C. A. Morgan joined a party of friends in Mansfield on a motor trip to Chicago where they will visit the Century of Progress Exposition, returning home early in September.

In the presence of intimate friends and members of the family, the marriage of Miss Mathilda Simpson and Mr. T. W. Gray was impressively solemnized, Sunday afternoon, September the sixteenth, at the First Baptist church with the pastor, Reverend L. T. Hastings, performing the impressive, double ring ceremony.

Vows were spoken before a flower backed altar. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Simpson. Her attendant was Miss James Brothers. Mr. Richard Brothers acted in the capacity of best man. Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Gray left for St. Louis, Missouri, where they will spend their honeymoon. Mrs. Gray, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Simpson, has been associated with the Southern Bell Telephone company for the past several years. Recently she was transferred to Ruston, Mr. Gray is identified with the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

All arrangements have been completed by the members of Ouachita Tent No. 54 and Fidelity Five No. 231, the Maecobes, for the box supper and dance to be given on Thursday.

Friends will be glad to know that he is much improved but still under the care of the specialist, necessitating a visit to New Orleans from time to time.

Miss Helen Laura Smith returned Tuesday from Springfield, Illinois, where she had been visiting relatives the past two weeks.

Make This Model At Home
News-Star Daily Pattern

A SLIP THAT WILL FIT
PATTERN 1897

by Anne Adams

You will like this slip when you make it, when you wear it and when you tub and iron it. What more could you ask of any bit of lingerie? It is a wrap-around model that crosses in the back and is both shadow-proof and adjustable. Our figures do change a bit from time to time, and with all this talk of "streamline silhouettes" and what not, it is a nice thing to know that one's slip will fit exactly right, come what may. Attractive Bride Of Recent Date Is Guest Of Honor At Bridge-Shower Wednesday

Mrs. Charles Womack, a lovely bride of recent date was the central figure in a group of devoted friends Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Thomas J. Sandridge and Miss Eve Bradford entertained with a bridge-shower in honor of this attractive bride of recent date. Mrs. Womack wore on the occasion a smart early fall model of black and gray light weight wool with a charming little hat of black felt. Mrs. Womack's lovely mother, Mrs. J. J. Herring, wore a most becoming model of Madelon blue crepe. The lower floor of Miss Bradford's home, ensuite, was banked with pink radiance roses and lavender dragon heads.

The interesting games of bridge resulted in Miss Doris Beaman claiming the high score gift, a pink chiffon evening handkerchief and Miss Ellen Kent Millsaps claiming the consolation gift, two rose-colored linen sport handkerchiefs. The lovely gifts wrapped in crisp pink tissue were presented to Mrs. Womack in a bamboo basket entwined with Queen's wreath and pink tulle.

Junior League Members Make Plans For Their Style Revue To Be Held On The Terrace

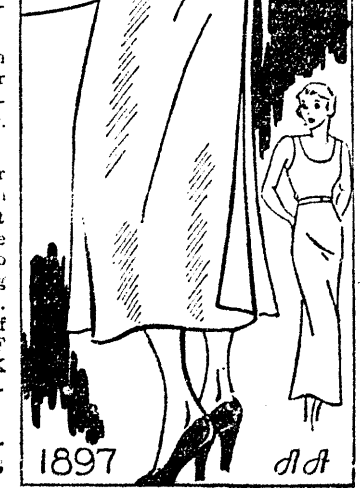

The Junior Charity League style revue on the 27th of the month has made us clothes conscious. Sent us scurrying to the shops for a new outfit for this auspicious occasion. The revue this year will be staged by Mrs. Bella Scherck Davidson of the Woman's Shoppe with members of the league sweeping down the aisles in ravishing models.

There will be much blinking among the spectators as the parade swings by... you'll see silken splendor with all the fashionable emphasis, new silks, ravishing new colors, gleaming metallic brocades, opulent lengths of satin that look like liquid moonlight.

You must have smooth streamlines this winter if you wear these beautiful new clothes. Until you have seen what classic simplicity in satin can do to make your envious sister clothes hounds "O" and "Ah" you've missed more than you realize.

Silk has been draped in every fashionable silhouette this winter. Long slinky affairs, wide ruffled models that remind you of pagodas, the wider picture dresses like grandmother used to wear before the war.

Miss Violet Meyer, chairman of the style revue will introduce several new features this year, all of which were gleaned from eastern shops, visited this winter if you wear these beautiful new clothes. With this thought in view, made the most of every opportunity to gather material for the presentation of this revue. It will be held on the Cherokee Terrace and will take on the aspects of a night club with Mrs. Walter Black, president of the league, announcer.

WOMEN MINISTERS 'OUT'
LEICESTER, England. — (AP)—The Methodist conference here decided not to admit women to the ministry because of the extreme difficulty of placing men in the itinerant ministry. The consensus in the church is that women should be admitted but out of every four men who wish to be received into the itinerant ministry, it is possible to place only one.

The word "sherry" came from Spain. Spaniards called their famous wine "jerez" and Britons spelled it "sherris," later changing it to "sherry."

SPITE MARRIAGE

by Katharine Hamilton Taylor

PROLOGUE: Marsha Moore has raised Bob Powers after "leading him" into an engagement. But when she hears Geoffrey Turleton, whom she fancied she loved, introduce her to "the new Mrs. Turleton" she marries Bob next day. Now, a little astonished and a little afraid of hurting Bob, she is beginning her honeymoon.

Chapter 14 HONEYMOON

A SILENCE followed; Marsha broke it. "You'll think me a fool," she said. "I don't know why I'm so oddly nervous."

"I'd think you a fool if you weren't oddly nervous," Bob assured her. He added, with a smile, "I'm a little nervous myself. What we need, my dear, is one of those patent medicines; the sort that is advertised through letters that run:

"I was all run down and had no appetite. I had terrible dizzy spells. The Doctor said it was my nerves. And after six bottles of your wonderful medicine I felt a new person. I cannot thank you enough!"

She laughed delightedly.

"And our letter," he said next, "will read, 'After eighteen bottles of your nerve cure, we had courage to start on our honeymoon!'"

"Have you a sense of humor, Bob?"

"My dear, I hope so. . . But then, have you ever met a man or woman who admitted they hadn't?"

"No," she admitted; she smiled for some moments over this, a thought new to her.

"Yes, Mrs. Powers," he answered, and was instantly sorry he had halted her in that reminding way, but she did not seem to mind.

"Where are we going?"

"Whether, what's for dessert?" he replied.

"Aren't you going to tell me?"

"No, Ma'am!"

"Why, you brute!"

"Yes, Ma'am."

"We're going somewhere on Long Island," she stated triumphantly as they neared the Queensboro Bridge. "Um. Know your map and everything, don't you? You tell me about the turns. It'll save 'my nerves.'"

"You're a very funny person, aren't you?" she questioned ironically.

"You'll have to pretend to think so when we have dinner guests and you hear the old ones," he assured her.

She might, she realized wonderingly, have been on her way with him to someone's dinner, or tea.

He said, "Marsha Powers, suppose you sit back and rest and know that everything is well."

They stopped for their luncheon at a small roadside inn where a broad, open fireplace was welcome after the bite of the outdoor air. When Marsha returned, freshened by water, powdered anew, she found a small table before the glowing hearth, and Bob, back to the hearth, smoking a cigaret and waiting here.

"THIS is charming!" she said. His eyes glowed. She felt a warming of heart that was made by the way that pleasing her, pleased him.

"I wish no one else would come," she confided as he drew out her chair and she settled.

"They won't," he assured her; "there's another dining room and I've arranged the matter. I'm really quite a 'fixer,' when I get a start. You're going to be surprised!"

"And all ordered!" she said as a waitress appeared with a laden tray.

"Yes, and if it doesn't suit we'll send it back and try again."

"I had not known I was hungry," she admitted next, and after some moments.

"I knew you were. I was afraid you would begin to chew the sleeve of my top coat. And I'm fond of that coat. It came from Bond Street. I was deeply troubled."

It was remarkably cozy; their luncheon time spread over an hour and then a half. The first died down and the waitress came in to mend it and to send the "beautiful lady and her handsome, big man" an envious glance. So much in love, they were, she saw; talking, laughing; "and him looking on her like he was starved, but keeping up his gay acting."

She sighed, leaving them. Again in the car, they found the skies darkened by the threat of a snow fall. Marsha's eyes grew heavy.

"Why don't you sag against my shoulder and sleep?" asked Bob. "It's at your service, and a very serviceable shoulder you'll find it to be."

She did, after a little hesitation; he must have driven with painstaking care she knew, when he woke her with a touch and she looked up to find him smiling down on her, and a flurry of snow in the air, and the small doorway of a stone house seen through it and near.

"Home, my dear child!" he said. He stepped from the car then and picked her up to carry her over the threshold. "I have my superstitions," he admitted, as she found herself set by him and reluctantly, upon her feet; "this is one of them!"

A stooped old woman in black dress, white cap and apron appeared then from the rear of the low-ceilinged, old-fashioned hall. She curtseied in a fashion that told of her having started as scullery maid in another land.

"I think you'll find everything in readiness for Mrs. Powers, Mr. Robert," she said, "and it's honored we are, here, to serve you both."

"Ella, one of my mother's oldest, most trusted servants," Bob said to Marsha. She murmured something gently kind to find surprise at herself. She had not known she could play this role that had been thrust upon her, so adroitly.

A moment more and she went with Bob up the few stairs and into a room with a sloping roof. The walls were covered with an old fashioned, flowered paper, ruffled, dotted swiss curtains were at the windows, and two deep-chintz-covered chairs and a few other old and good pieces gave the place peace.

"SWEET," she murmured, looking around.

"Thought you'd like it," he answered; he did not glance away from her. "I'll bring up our bags. We're without any men servants. I think I didn't want any rugged male thing to see how softly I shall gaze at you. Why don't you finish that nap before dinner? You have a long hour and a half."

"Perhaps," she admitted, "it would be a good idea." She could be alone thus, she reasoned; and perhaps, alone, she could think things through a little to get beyond the old, and disconcertingly unsteady feeling that had been hers ever since she had learned Geoffrey was lost to her and since what she had done because of the loss of Geoffrey.

He brought up their luggage, set hers on the waiting racks, and unstrapped each piece.

"All fixed!" he said. He moved toward the doorway; smiled at her from the doorway; then he left, closing the low door firmly after himself.

For some time she stood, without moving. Suddenly she laughed; she did not know where she was physically, or mentally! Where had his car turned as she slept? If only things would become real; if only he would act as she had expected him to!

He could feel solid ground, known ground through a normal man's actions, even the name of the village. Then perhaps this ghastly new seriousness, which made deep crippling pressure, would slip away. She descended the stairs at half after six; he was waiting for her at the foot of them.

"Sleep?" he asked.

"Yes, I didn't expect to, but there's a peace here, I've never felt before. It's a darling house!"

"I hoped you would like it."

"I can't see how you arranged everything in this short while."

"It took a little speed," he admitted. "I spent the night telephoning—drugging people from bed—and persuading them that no one needed so much sleep as they thought. Come in here and see the nice fire and the cocktails that are waiting you—"

The living room was broad and long; a piano stood at one end and near windows of tiny panes; at the other end of the room was a bank of books; their colors were gentle in the soft light. A fire leaped and scolded. Deep chairs were before it and an old fashioned, chintz-covered sofa.

"I adore this place!" said Marsha. "I thought," she said slowly, "that if you liked it—as much as I shall after our time here, we might buy it, so that we can come back; make a pilgrimage now and again you know—between bridges—"

He paused a moment.

"Come here to me," he said next. "I want to say something that is rather serious to you—"

AAA ATTORNEYS STUDY BANKHEAD COTTON STATUTE

act by declaring the cotton "emergency" at an end. He has this power. Informal opinion in legal circles was that the president could not suspend the law—that he could only write it off the books by holding that the emergency or the need for controlling production and reducing surplus stocks had been ended by drought.

One proposal, by Senator Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, co-author of the law, would increase individual allotments to growers so as to cover all cotton harvested this year. It was the opinion in some circles that the wording of the act prevents any increase in allotments but officials added that perhaps Senator Bankhead has a definite plan of his own to present Saturday.

Bankhead Not For Abandonment

GADSDEN, Ala., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Senator John H. Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, today declared here that he did not favor abandonment of the cotton control act of which he is co-author.

"I am informed that there is an impression in some quarters," said the senator, "that I favor ending the Bankhead act. Nothing is further from the facts. I view it as the outstanding hope of the cotton belt."

"The farmers have the right to decide whether it shall be continued or abandoned next year. I earnestly hope they will favor its continuance. My present interest is in securing the issuance of additional tax exemption allotments for small producers, and especially those who have heretofore voluntarily reduced production."

"I shall in no event agree to any action at this time that means the abandonment of the act."

"Every cooperating cotton grower knows what it has accomplished for the entire cotton belt this year."

Senator Bankhead was here today to deliver an address at a farmers' rally.

WALMSLEY SAYS DEFEAT DOESN'T INTIMIDATE HIM

its "dens of iniquity," for according to the police "vice and gambling" in the city was a scarce article at this day and time.

He also appeared to beam over the dictatorial authority handed up to him by the legislature, for he can call on these laws to enforce his policies in the courts where there is opposition to them from his bitter enemies.

Many of the new statutes are at work in New Orleans and the police are enforcing them. The Long organization conducts a 24-hour office of T. Semmes Walmsley group of office-seekers in the recent primary.

Another new law, the senator says, gives Attorney General Gaston L. Porter the right to supercede local authorities on legal questions and Porter has ordered the holding of a second primary in the third supreme court district, where the Long-supported candidate for the court passed away two days before the election.

His opponents in the district are insisting that the election is out of order and that the anti-Long candidate, unopposed, should have been declared the nominee.

But as to gambling and vice "wide-open" New Orleans is now a closed affair. A police raiding squad sent out to superintend raids by the force on the "dens of vice" has reported very few arrests.

The places pointed out as being suspected of underworld trades have been closed and their occupants have folded their tents and moved away. One raid was made on a reputed lottery shop and another where police said betting was going on.

Mayor Walmsley, threatened by Long with legislative removal, has gone to New York on business with the United States conference of mayors.

The superintendent of police is also out of town and the city is quiet after a roar of political strife.

John Groesch, acting superintendent, said the police were concentrating on abolishing vice and gambling and that by Saturday "not a lottery vendor would be on the streets of the city."

Five out of six pedestrians injured in motor car accidents are struck before they reach the middle of the street they are crossing.

PRESIDENT MEETS PERKINS, WINANT FOR CONFERENCE

raid on a mass meeting last night. Sheriff's deputies said the workers were "plotting trouble."

Findings Placed Before Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Findings of the special board of inquiry in the textile strike were submitted to President Roosevelt today by Gov. Winant of New Hampshire, the chairman.

The governor carefully refrained from expressing any opinion on the strike to newspapermen before going to the summer White House.

"We have some ideas," he said, and that was all.

Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, also was called to the Roosevelt conference table today and there was every indication that the president was ready to take action on the textile strike now two weeks old.

Governor Winant would not confirm or deny stories that the special board appointed by the president had drafted a report.

In naming the board, Mr. Roosevelt asked that it make a report to Secretary Perkins by October 1.

Governor Winant came to Hyde Park alone. He met Secretary Perkins at the president's home.

Returning earlier today from his cruise to the international yacht races, Mr. Roosevelt turned immediately to the strike problem.

Latest Textile Strike Developments

(By Associated Press)
HYDE PARK, N. Y.—President Roosevelt called his secretary of labor, Frances Perkins, and the head of his mediation board, Gov. John G. Winant of New Hampshire, to a conference today, with the board's strike report believed completed.

WASHINGTON—One hundred thousand more textile workers will be called out Monday, Strike Leader Francis J. Gorman announced, unless the controversy has been settled.

NEW YORK—A concerted drive to break the strike in the silk, rayon and synthetic fabrics branches of the industry was on today, said Peter Van Horn, chairman of the silk code authority. One hundred mills in nearly all operating sections were being thrown open.

NEW YORK—George A. Sloan, president of the cotton textile institute, said ten more mills have opened in the south, returning to jobs about 66 per cent of the 299,000 who were employed in southern mills before the walkout.

WATERVILLE, Me.—National guardsmen went on patrol after a riot outside the Lockwood Manufacturing company mill, which was besieged yesterday by two hundred pickets.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y.—Tear gas and water were employed to repulse a flying squadron of strikers who clashed with workers at the Little Falls Manufacturing company.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—The death of a textile worker from a bayonet wound brought to 13 the number of fatalities in the strike. Vigilante committees were organized to preserve order.

MACON, Ga.—A meeting of textile workers was broken up with tear gas and gun fire last night by officers who said the workers were plotting "trouble." Thirty-four were taken to jail.

Thirty-Four Men Arrested By Troops

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Arrest by national guardsmen of 34 men on the suspicion that they were going out to intimidate workers in cotton mills in this area was announced today by Colonel Thomas L. Alexander, commander of the 122nd infantry, Georgia national guard. The men, he said, were arrested last night in the adjoining mill town of Bibb City.

Colonel Alexander said the arrests were made in the downtown section of Bibb City as guardsmen were attracted by the unusual assembly of men, gathering in a truck.

"They told us they were going on a weiner roast—but they had no weiners," Colonel Alexander said, "and were unable to give satisfactory account of their destination."

The men were detained under guard today in the Y. M. C. A. building in Bibb City.

Colonel Alexander was here on an inspection trip. The local detachment of the national guard is under command of Lieut. Col. S. B. Hawkins.

No plans have been perfected for disposition of the men, Colonel Alexander said, but he expressed doubt if they would be taken to the military internment camp near Atlanta, where 128 other persons are held on charges of textile strike disorders.

Colonel Alexander said a number of those arrested here were "not textile workers."

them received cracked heads and arm and body injuries as they fell.

All of the five physicians of Oak Grove were called to render emergency treatment at the scene, which they described as one of the worst they had ever witnessed. One negro woman whose leg was broken sang and prayed, while a negro man who had suffered fractures of both legs, calmly smiled and smoked a cigarette.

B. F. Valentine, of Darnell, white man, and owner and driver of the truck, was uninjured. Other negroes in the group of 15 or 20 on the truck also were uninjured.

The accident occurred near the northern limits of Oak Grove. Collins was driving north, en route to Lake Village to visit friends, and Valentine was traveling south, returning to Darnell with the load of negro cotton pickers.

Collins was taken into custody by Marshal John W. Bradley and Deputy Sheriff G. C. Roberts, and was given treatment for his injuries. No decision had been reached as to probable charges to be filed against him.

Valentine said he drove almost into the ditch on his side of the road to avoid the collision, and that Collins failed to turn to the right. Several other witnesses confirmed this version, but Collins denied he was at fault.

In addition to Collins, those who received injuries were Johnny Williams, 20; Josie Coleman, 21; Andrew Henderson, 15; Mary Coleman, 16; Willie Smith, 36; Mary Green, 26; and Rubin McGee. All lived in Darnell community and had been picking cotton near Chickasaw, about seven miles north of Oak Grove.

After receiving emergency treatment, the negroes were taken to the charity hospital at Shreveport in an ambulance and a truck.

Officers were quoted as saying they found a full half pint bottle of whiskey and two empty bottles in Collins' car and another bottle near the car. Some of the whiskey was said to have been purchased in Oak Grove.

In the distance that remained she had to cross a railroad track. Police said they had requested Louisville and Nashville officials to make a careful search of cars and locomotives that passed over the lines during the afternoon on the possibility that the child might have been struck down by a train and her body caught and carried away in the machinery.

An organized police search for Dorothy did not get under way until last night and it was not until after midnight that a resident of the sparsely settled community reported to police an unfamiliar automobile, driven by a large man, had been seen parked on Scott avenue, on which the child's home is located.

Department of justice agents entered the case early in the night and it was learned that they questioned the child's parents at length about possible motives for kidnapping.

After Dorothy had been missing for approximately nine hours police broadcast a call for volunteer searchers. An immediate response brought hundreds of citizens to the neighborhood. Throughout the night they beat through the brush that covers many acres in the section, which is only partially built up.

Mr. Distelhurst, an estimator salesman for the Southern Methodist publishing house, told police he held no theory as to what might have befallen his daughter.

Inspector Griffin said no clue had been developed which might indicate specifically where the missing child could be found or who, if any one, had caused her disappearance.

FALL IS HERE!

The weather may say no, but the calendar says yes. Fall is officially here. That means housecleaning and a host of necessary new things.

So we suggest you take stock today. Does the house need painting or shingles, or storm windows? Look well at the dining room rug, the living room furniture, the paper on the walls. Are they worthy of you—especially when visitors call? And the car! Soon it will need anti-freeze and a general tuning up after a summer of hard use. The lawn may need seeding (Fall is the ideal time) and the flower beds their winter covering. And you yourself need clothes.

All these things are so easy to choose. Just read the advertisements in this paper—they are safe guides to goods and services. Study them carefully and you will be well repaid in quality and price.

BILBO DECLARES FOR ROOSEVELT

Says Program 'Radiates The Spirit Of The New Deal'

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 20.—(AP)—When Senator-Demagogue Theodore G. Bilbo goes to Washington in January as the junior ranking senator of Mississippi, he will have a program which he says will "radiate the spirit of the New Deal."

It does not correspond entirely with the White House program, but Bilbo, nominated in Tuesday's Democratic primary over Senator Hubert D. Stephens by about 7,000 votes, describes his proposals as friendly to the president and the "New Deal." After his nomination, which is equivalent to election in this state, Bilbo said the moment was the "happiest in my life," but he exhibited little interest in a victory rally planned for him tomorrow night.

"Put me down for about a fifteen-minute speech," Bilbo told the program committee. "I don't feel like talking much."

"I want to wait and hear what Stephens has to say," Bilbo said. His vanquished opponent had no formal statement, but informally Senator Stephens said he would return to private life, at least for the time being.

He was retired in a comparatively close vote after 22 years of official life in Washington, where he served as chairman of the commerce committee and took the lead in working out a fifteen-year flood control program.

"There is nothing more I can do about that program now, I suppose," Senator Stephens said with a saddened voice.

But with a broad smile he announced his intention of having "lots of fun planting peas and peanuts and vegetables—so I can have something to eat in the spring."

Senator Stephens campaigned on his one-plank platform of clinging to the "New Deal" program of the president and asked the people to re-nominate him on that plea.

But Bilbo refused to let the issue become a cut-throat during the campaign by the declaration that he also was a supporter of President Roosevelt's program.

With only eight precincts missing out of 1,641 in the state, Bilbo received 102,095 and Stephens 94,918 by the unofficial count among the nearly 200,000 votes cast.

On the face of the unofficial returns, both incumbent house members who entered second primaries were defeated and two new faces will appear in the congress in their stead.

Representative Jeff Busby lost to A. L. Ford, in the fourth district, 11,610 to 12,708, and Representative Russell Ellzey, of the seventh, was defeated by Dan R. McGeehee 19,808 to 21,852. The returns were almost complete.

District Attorney Aubert Dunn of Meridian, will succeed Representative Ross Collins of the fifth district. He defeated Thos. L. Bailey, speaker of the house of representatives of Mississippi by the nearly complete vote of 19,403 to 11,514.

Representative Collins resigned his position in the house to run for the senate in the first primary and came out third.

T. H. McElroy won the third district circuit court judge race from A. T. Patterson 9,286 to 8,398 with only 6 precincts missing.

The complete unofficial vote in the fourteenth judgeship district gave J. F. Guynes 8,631 to take the office against F. D. Hewitt who received 4,424 votes.

Bilbo's "radiating" program features cheaper money for farm relief, an equitable scaling down of farm loans, elimination of all restrictions on crop production, direct federal aid for schools, no cancellation of foreign debts, immediate payment of the bonus, "effective federal control" of the federal reserve banks, shorter working hours and a living wage, unemployment insurance, a sound currency with controlled inflation, old age pensions, competitive tariff for revenues and tariff agreements with other nations.

Until Bilbo surrendered his political grip two years ago to Governor Mike Conner, he had an unbroken 16 years of official service in the state capital as senator, lieutenant governor and governor.

He said in his campaign that he would go to Washington and "raise more hell than Huey Long."

Monroe Firemen Are Busy On Wednesday

Monroe firemen saw one of their busiest days of the year yesterday and up to 10 p. m. last night had answered alarm calls and extinguished blazes ranging from grass and automobile fires to a small forest fire.

The first call of the day came at 2:10 a. m. from Kellogg Lumber company where trash and lumber had caught fire. At 10:35 a. m. an automobile owned by H. Campbell caught fire at 4401 Lee avenue and a fire in a truck owned by the Economy Furniture company was extinguished at 719 DeSiard street at 4:22 p. m.

Two grass fires, one at Lee avenue and Hampton street and the other at 100 Fairview avenue, were extinguished late in the morning. A trash fire at Oak and Twelfth was put out at 1 p. m. and the last call of the day was to a small forest fire six miles west of here.

All fires were extinguished before much damage was done.

EX-COMMISSIONER COMMITS SUICIDE

Former New Orleans Official Kills Himself At Residence

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20.—(AP)—William T. Hall, former commissioner of public utilities of New Orleans, killed himself last night at his residence, the parish coroner, Dr. C. Grenes Cole, announced after an investigation.

Mr. Hall was 47 years old and was in the insurance brokerage business at the time of his death. His body, clad in pajamas, was found in a pool of blood and a pistol was clutched in his hand.

Members of his family found his body in the residence after returning from a day's visit to Baton Rouge. They told officers they were unable to account for the circumstances surrounding his death.

Mr. Hall served as a member of the council from 1925 to 1929 with Mayor Martin Behrman and Commissioners Paul B. Habans, John Klorer and Arthur J. O'Keefe, Sr. He ran for office in 1925 and was entered in a second primary, but withdrew. A month after the primary Joseph Sinai, a member of the commission counsel, died and the Orleans parish Democratic executive committee named Hall to the position.

ARKANSAS BANK BANDITS SOUGHT

Three Desperadoes Rob Mount Holly Institution And Flee

EL DORADO, Ark., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Union county officers today sought traces of three bandits who abandoned a stolen car near McNeil yesterday after robbing the Bank of Mount Holly, 20 miles northwest of here, of several hundred dollars.

The holdup, requiring only two minutes, was Arkansas' second in less than a week. Three gunmen last Saturday obtained $3,611 in a raid on the McIlroy Bank and Trust at Fayetteville in the city's first bank robbery in history.

Two gunmen entered the Mount Holly bank while a third remained in an automobile used in the getaway.

Miss Hattie Freeman, cashier, and Curtis Crumpler, a customer, were forced to lie on the floor as the unmasked robbers scooped up all the currency in sight. Additional cash in the vault was overlooked.

The bandit car had been stolen near here Monday night by two hi-jackers from L. M. Craig, El Dorado insurance salesman. He said two gunmen overtook him on the highway and robbed him of $25 and his automobile.

New York Prevents Detroit From Adding Insult To Injury

YANKEES DEFEAT TIGERS IN THIRD TILT OF SERIES

Bengal's American League Lead Cut To Six And Half Games

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
The Yankees have at last kept the pennant-bound Tigers from adding insult to injury by clinching the American league pennant at the expense of their nearest and most durable rivals but that doesn't seem to have made much difference in the flag race.

After 20 scoreless innings in Detroit, the Yankees scored a third-inning run yesterday, then, having broken the charm of Tiger pitching, went on to knock Elden Auker around for a three-run burst in the sixth and win, 5 to 2. The only tangible results were that the Tiger lead was reduced to 6 1/2 games and they were left needing four victories to clinch the flag—only three if the list includes a triumph over the Yanks today.

The Giants staged a gain in the National league race when they won a game from Cincinnati and the second-place Cardinals lost a chance to play a doubleheader because of rain at Boston. New York's 6-3 triumph, gained through a four-run rally in the eighth at the expense of Rookie Beryl Richmond, increased the Giant lead to four games.

As the result of two days of illness, the Cards had a game completely wiped off their program and now only have 13 left in which to overhaul the Giants. New York has nine to go.

The third-place Cubs retreated to 7 1/2 games behind the Giants, putting themselves on the ragged edge of elimination as they took a 5-4 setback from the Phillies and Curt Davis, who allowed only seven hits and drove in two runs.

Brooklyn continued to make life miserable for the Pirates, winning a doubleheader, 4 to 1 and 8 to 4, with heavy hitting behind Van Mungo and Johnny Babich.

The Athletics climbed to fifth place in the American league with a double victory over the White Sox, 5 to 3 and 14 to 0.

The Senators, now seventh, squared their series with Cleveland by poking out a 5-to-2 decision behind Bob Burke's steady elbowing. St. Louis defeated Boston, 3-2, but slipped into sixth place because of the A's double victory.

BATTING LEADERS

By Associated Press
With three hits in five times at bat, Heinie Manush, Washington slugging outfielder, yesterday advanced within one point of a tie with Lou Gehrig for the American league batting leadership.

The standings:
G AB R H Pct.
P. Waner, Pirates, 136 562 112 201 .358
Gehrig, Yankees, 145 552 132 197 .357

Gehrig, Tigers, 144 562 126 199 .354

Southeastern Grid Dope

By Francis Carpenter
ATLANTA, Sept. 20.—(P)—The efforts of a second-string center to make the varsity for the last two years likely will be rewarded tomorrow night when Auburn opens its 1934 football campaign against Birmingham-Southern.

Barney Musgrove, 185-pounder, has been on call on the Plainsmen's bench for two years, ready to do his job at center. He has shown up well in practice this fall and all signs point to Musgrove going in at his favorite position when the starting whistle blows at Montgomery. Ward Wright, former halfback and one of Auburn's fastest men, is expected to start as fullback for Auburn.

One other Southeastern conference aggregation starts its season tomorrow night, and that is Mississippi State. Howard is chosen as the opponent for Mississippi State, with the game being played at Birmingham.

Kentucky starts up Saturday against Maryville at Lexington and those three are the only Southeastern conference teams to see action this early in the season. Coaches at Vanderbilt would like to have a practice game Saturday but efforts to get Cumberland or Middle Tennessee State Teachers were unsuccessful.

Wade Hampton has been sifted from center to guard at Vanderbilt.

MICHIGAN ELEVEN 'ON THE SPOT' IN COMING CAMPAIGN

Six Teams Are Real
Threats To Wolverines'
Title Aspirations

By Merle Oliver

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 20.—(P)—Michigan will be "on the spot" in the Western conference again this fall, with a successful season assured for any one of the six football coaches, provided his eleven can put an end to the rule of the Wolverine.

All Coach Harry Kipke wants in the coming campaign is a fifth successive Big Ten championship for the Maize and Blue. Standing in the way are Chicago, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio State and Northwestern, all regarded as stronger than in 1933. These six teams for the Western conference will be met in October and November, in addition to Michigan State and Georgia Tech.

Illinois and Minnesota are considered the most dangerous, although in "the toughest collegiate football territory" one is likely to "find a rattlesnake hiding in any bush."

The Maize and Blue has lost four outstanding football men who produced and prevented scores in 1933. Charles Bernard, center, Ted Petoskey, end, Francis Wistert, tackle, and Herman Everhardus, halfback. Sophomores must be groomed to replace them this fall. Both regular guards, Carl Savage and Johnny Kowalik, also are gone, as is Captain Stan Fay, halfback.

The 1934 team will be constructed

Detroit's Lead Cut To Six And One Half
Games In Flag Race

DETROIT, Sept. 20.—(P)—After being held scoreless by Detroit pitchers for 20 consecutive innings, the New York Yankees turned on Elden Auker Wednesday and broke the spell when they scored a run in the third inning to make a start that developed into a 5 to 2 victory.

The defeat reduced to the Tigers lead over the Yankees to six and one-half games, but Mickey Cochran's men still needed only four victories or three, if they beat the Yanks in the final game of the series Thursday, to clinch their first pennant since 1903.

For five innings it looked as if Auker might whip the Yanks but in the sixth he was found for a single, two doubles and two walks. The result was three runs which virtually sewed up the game as Fordham Johnny Murphy, on the mound for New York, hurled steady ball most of the way.

Murphy held the Bengals to six hits in his fourteen-inning victory of the year and grew better after giving a lead. He allowed no hits in the last three innings, retiring nine hitters consecutively.

The Detroit infield was broken up for the first time this year when Hank Greenberg, slugging first baseman from the Bronx, was given the day off to observe the Jewish holiday, Yom Kippur. Doljack played first and Goose Goslin moved into the cleanup position.

With the score tied at one-all, the Yankees loaded the bases in the sixth on Rolfe's single, a double by Selkirk and a free ticket handed Gehrig punitively. Tony Lenzner, batting through with a double, however, scoring two runs. Chapman then drew a walk and Byrd lifted a long fly to Goslin, sending Gehrig home with the third tally.

The attendance slumped to 26,000, the smallest of the series, and for the first time ground rules were not in force.

The Michigan schedule:
Oct. 1: Michigan State college.
Oct. 13: Chicago at Chicago.
Oct. 20: Georgia Tech.
Oct. 27: Illinois.
Nov. 3: Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Nov. 10: Wisconsin.
Nov. 17: Ohio State at Columbus.
Nov. 24: Northwestern.

From tackle to tackle the chief virtue of the Maize and Blue line will be the almost equal abilities of starters and substitutes. Captain Tom Austin will play right tackle, and Willard Hildebrand will have another regular place, either at guard or tackle. Any available combination will give the Wolverines a line averaging over 200 pounds from end to end, and the backs will average more than 180 pounds.

The Michigan schedule:

WEST DEFEATED IN POLO MATCH

Easterners Triumph, 10
To 8, With Sensational
Rally

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—From the standpoint of intersectional sporting rivalry, the western polo team realizes today how Stanford's football eleven felt last New Year's day after bumping into a pack of Columbia Lions.

The main difference is that the western riders suddenly found themselves surrounded by a quartet of wildcats on horseback late yesterday on Meadow Brook's beautiful international field. Before being able to shake loose from the fury of one of the most spontaneous rallies in the history of big league polo, the west was badly clawed and beaten, 10-8, by the east in the first match of the 1934 intersectional championship series.

The consequence is that the western strategists, while keeping the same polo personnel in action, considered today the desirability, if not the necessity of shaking up the lineup if they are not to lose two straight and the series. The second match is scheduled for Saturday at Meadow Brook and the west must win to carry the issue into a third and deciding contest. To get the benefit of his long-hitting up forward, Cecil Smith, the 10-goal Texan, may displace Elmer Boescke, the 10-goal Californian, at number 2 for the west. Boescke probably will be moved to the back position, with Aidan Roark taking over the number 5 place and Eric Pedley remaining at number 1 in the hopes of getting more chances to go places with the ball.

The eastern triumph signaled the rise of a new edition of the "four horsemen," four wild-riding, fearless eastern youths, who astounded every one by spotting the ranking polo team of the United States four goals, with only two periods to go, and then proceeding to wipe that margin out with something to spare, by scoring six goals in as many minutes.

Nothing like this achievement of Mike Phipps, Jimmy Mills, Winston Guest and Billy Post—a quartet of former college stars—has ever been seen in top-ranking American polo.

Fifty-three per cent of the 32,941,570 telephones in the world are located in the United States.

From tackle to tackle the chief virtue of the Maize and Blue line will be the almost equal abilities of starters and substitutes. Captain Tom Austin will play right tackle, and Willard Hildebrand will have another regular place, either at guard or tackle. Any available combination will give the Wolverines a line averaging over 200 pounds from end to end, and the backs will average more than 180 pounds.

WEST DEFEATED IN POLO MATCH

Easterners Triumph, 10
To 8, With Sensational
Rally

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—From the standpoint of intersectional sporting rivalry, the western polo team realizes today how Stanford's football eleven felt last New Year's day after bumping into a pack of Columbia Lions.

The main difference is that the western riders suddenly found themselves surrounded by a quartet of wildcats on horseback late yesterday on Meadow Brook's beautiful international field. Before being able to shake loose from the fury of one of the most spontaneous rallies in the history of big league polo, the west was badly clawed and beaten, 10-8, by the east in the first match of the 1934 intersectional championship series.

The consequence is that the western strategists, while keeping the same polo personnel in action, considered today the desirability, if not the necessity of shaking up the lineup if they are not to lose two straight and the series. The second match is scheduled for Saturday at Meadow Brook and the west must win to carry the issue into a third and deciding contest. To get the benefit of his long-hitting up forward, Cecil Smith, the 10-goal Texan, may displace Elmer Boescke, the 10-goal Californian, at number 2 for the west. Boescke probably will be moved to the back position, with Aidan Roark taking over the number 5 place and Eric Pedley remaining at number 1 in the hopes of getting more chances to go places with the ball.

The eastern triumph signaled the rise of a new edition of the "four horsemen," four wild-riding, fearless eastern youths, who astounded every one by spotting the ranking polo team of the United States four goals, with only two periods to go, and then proceeding to wipe that margin out with something to spare, by scoring six goals in as many minutes.

Nothing like this achievement of Mike Phipps, Jimmy Mills, Winston Guest and Billy Post—a quartet of former college stars—has ever been seen in top-ranking American polo.

Fifty-three per cent of the 32,941,570 telephones in the world are located in the United States.

FOURTH CUP RACE CALLED OFF FOR LACK OF BREEZE

Endeavour And Rainbow Report At Course But There's No Wind

By Edward J. Neil

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 20.—(P)—Not a breath of air flicked the rolling seas off America's yacht racing capital Wednesday, so there was no fourth engagement of Britain's blue boat Endeavour and the America's cup defender Rainbow.

In the window of Tiffany's on Fifth avenue in New York the ancient cup that cost some hundred guineas over 50 years ago and millions of dollars worth of racing sloops since, must have steadied on its trembling base as the day passed without adding to the tremendous advantages the Englishman already enjoys—two clean-cut and convincing victories in two official starts after the first match last Saturday failed to bring a verdict within the 5-12 hours time limit.

They went bravely out Wednesday at the usual time to the battle ground, the open ocean nine miles southeast of Brenton lightship.

Out of the southwest came a few faint puffs of wind, wrinkling the oily tops of the slow, shiny sails. Then even that died, and at 10:20 a. m. (eastern standard time) there broke out from the committee boat Wilhelmina the red and white pennant that signals a starting delay.

The big blue-hulled Englishman ran up a mainmast and staysail and lolled about, barely under headway. Rainbow, like a huge white gull resting on the waters, drifted nearby.

Thomas Octave Murdoch Sopwith drifted the challenger over by Rainbow and stood by the wheel, mourning the situation with Harold S. Vanderbilt, skipper of the defender.

Far more than Sopwith, certainly, would Vanderbilt have liked to get just a little breeze, for this would be typical Rainbow weather.

Beaten Tuesday in the new cup record time of 3:09:01 over the 30-mile triangular course, in nothing but a fresh sailing breeze, the American's prayer is for light airs.

But no breeze came and for three hours the fleet lay there, until at 12:20 the Wilhelmina whistled and signalled that there would be no race.

The weather sharks still were shaking their heads Wednesday over the possibility of further postponements due to lack of wind. For such things run in cycles in these waters. By various processes of divination, the men who know about wind including the chart makers, declared there was no real air east of Omaha.

Vanderbilt came ashore from his yacht Yara late in the day, and there was no tinkering with the defender in a final effort to add to her speed. He said both boats would race at the usual 10:40 a. m. time Thursday and that he would not ask for a postponement, his right under the rules.

Injury Jinx Strikes At Louisiana State Again

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 20.—(P)—Injury struck again in the Louisiana State university grid practice camp when x-ray Wednesday showed that Bill Crass, promising sophomore back with a fine chance of breaking into varsity play, suffered a broken arm in practice. Crass took his seat on the out-of-commission bench with the crippled varsity junior, Jess Fatterree, and probably won't see action before the Arkansas game, October 20.

GIANTS WIN AND GAIN ON CARDS

Leaders Beat Reds As St.
Louis Is Again Rained
Out At Boston

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—With one big inning the New York Giants backed another half game onto their lead Wednesday.

defeating the Cincinnati Reds 6 to 5 to increase their lead to two games. The Cardinals to four full games. The Cards again were rained out at Boston.

Going into the last half of the eighth with the score tied at two-all, the Giants put together four hits, a base on balls and an error to score four runs.

Before they subdued the Reds in the ninth, however, Manager Bill Terry was forced to call Adolfo Luque from the bullpen to put down a threatening rally.

Beryl Richmond, the Reds recent southpaw acquisition from Baltimore, kept the Giants' hits well scattered until he blew up in the eighth. He was matched by Leroy Parmelee, however, until the Giants' big right-hander was taken out for pinch hitter in the seventh, Joe Bowman, Al Smith, and Luque finished up the game, with Bowman getting credit for the victory.

PHILS SHADE CUBS
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—(P)—Curt Davis chalked up his 17th win of the season Wednesday—an elusive mark for which he has been gunning since August 4—as he and his Phillies mates landed on Chicago Cubs pitching for a 5 to 4 victory in the third game of the current series.

It was the eighth time Davis had taken the mound against an enemy in search of number 17 in his string. He not only limited the Cubs to seven hits, but drove in the two runs that spelled victory.

DODGERS WIN PAIR
BROOKLYN, Sept. 20.—(P)—The Brooklyn Dodgers gained their third successive victory in two days over the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday. They swept a doubleheader, 4 to 1 and 8 to 4.

A seventh-inning rally, in which seven runs were scored off three Pittsburgh pitchers, settled the nightcap behind the steady hurling of Johnny Babich. Van Lingle Mungo held the Pirates scoreless in the opening contest until the ninth inning, limiting them to six scattered blows.

Ralph Birkofer started the first game for the Pirates but was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Larry French was charged with the de-

DELHI TO MEET BASTROP FRIDAY

Bears Hope To Open
Schedule With Victory
Over Ram Eleven

DELHI, Sept. 20.—(Special)—The Bears of Delhi high school have just about rounded into shape their first encounter of the year with the Rams of Bastrop. The Bears are completing about their second week of hard training and they say that they will be ready for the Morehouse aggregation Friday and will turn on the steam to defeat the Class A entry.

The Delhi team is composed this year of mostly green material, especially in the tackles and backfield. These are Coach Lewis' major problems.

Faced with the lack of capable reserves and with green men, the Bears are depending on the condition of the men to carry them through the opening encounter with the Rams. As a whole the squad has completed the early training in fairly good shape.

The only exceptions are the bruised legs of the fullback, Pat Ingram, and the sickness of the two tackles, who have malaria. Even with these handicaps, however, the Bears hope to throw a few trick plays which will gain them the necessary scores.

Left end, Tamburo, 130; left tackle, Buchanan, 160; left guard, Coleman, 160; center, Copps, 150; right guard, Mitcham, 160; right tackle, Jackson, 190; right end, Crews, 150 or Simms, 145; quarterback, Bruce, 135; fullback, Pat Ingram, 160; right half, King Ingram, 155; left half, Wood, 150.

For reserves the Bears have the following men:
Bostick, 165; Koutzky, 140; Gilliland, 145; Paul Ingram, 145; Stephens, 145; Bryan, 135, and Halbert, 135.

LIONS POLISH UP TIMING OF PLAYS

Ouachita Squad Ready For Hard Game At Crossett Saturday

Following a lengthy dummy scrimmage yesterday, Coach Ben Rush said he was well satisfied with the showing of the Ouachita parish high school football squad, which is preparing for its first game to be played at Crossett, Ark., Saturday afternoon.

Coach Rush and his three assistants spent the entire afternoon running the squad through various plays in an effort to improve the timing. The long session brought about excellent results, the Lions mentor said.

Coach Rush expects a hard game with the Crossett high school eleven. The game originally was scheduled for the Ouachita reserves but after Crossett nosed out El Dorado last week, the Crossett coach advised the local mentor to bring his first team for the Saturday fray.

INDIANS STAGE PRACTICE GAME

Greens Beat Blues By One Touchdown; Squad Shows Up Well

Yesterday the railbirds were afforded their first glimpse of the 1934 edition of Northeast Center's football team when Coach Jim Malone divided the squad into two teams and a short game of eight-minute quarters was played.

The squad was divided into a "blue" team and a "green" team.

The only touchdown of the game was scored on a play off tackle with Arlan Guin, a green jerseyed back, diving over the line for the score from about the four-yard line. The ball was put in scoring territory on a series of plays with "Puss" Sutherland, and Guin alternating at carrying the ball.

Randolph Manning, 235 pound tackle, was one of the big reasons that the blue jerseyed backs failed to lug the ball any great distance. Time after time he smothered plays before the interference formed and showed plenty of speed in spite of his heft. He probably received the greatest assistance on the defense from a tall slender boy from Homer named Tinsley who showed that he knew how to hold down a wing position. Tinsley proved to be a thorn in the side of the blue jerseyed backs and seldom could they gain any ground around his end.

The blue shirts threatened to score several times but lacked the final drive that the green team showed. Their greatest threat was on an exchange of punts with Frank Bono bringing them back. On one exchange he broke away for about 45 yards before being run out of bounds. He received some excellent blocking on this particular play but also showed that if his mates failed to mow down the opposition he was capable of twisting and spinning away from would-be tacklers.

"Stu" Mays, a Fordyce product, was the only casualty of the game, receiving an injured wrist in one of the mixups. His injury was not serious but he was taken out to prevent possible further complications.

The two blue jerseyed guards, Young and Johnson, showed superiority over their green back squad mates facing them. They also did their share of the blocking for their backs on the running plays.

Lemak, wearing a blue shirt, did most of the ball carrying for his team and turned in several nice gains. He demonstrated that he was capable of

LARGE FIELD FOR WOMEN'S TOURNEY

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The biggest entry in eleven years—157 players—will tee off October 1 in the 18-hole qualifying round of the 35th women's national golf championship over the Whitehurst Valley Country club links in Philadelphia seeking the 54 match play prize.

All of the country's ranking players, in addition to a formidable group of invading stars from Great Britain, are included in the largest field since 1923, when the starting list totaled 196.

The nine members of the American Curtis cup team, which will meet a British side in a renewal of the international series in Washington next week, and nine members of the British squad top the entries.

Virginia Van Wie, soft-spoken Chicagoan, who has held the championship for the past two years, has been paired with Dorothy Plumptre, runner up for the English championship in 1933, for the qualifying round.

PENNANT RACES

(By Associated Press)

The New York Giants moved a little nearer the National league pennant yesterday, when they took advantage of the second place Cardinals' idleness to increase their lead to four full games with a 6 to 3 decision over the Reds. Meanwhile the Cubs lost more ground, dropping seven and one-half games back of the Giants with only ten games to play, as they fell before the Phillies. The rain at Boston yesterday washed two games permanently off the Cardinals' schedule, leaving them only 12 games to play.

The Tigers' drive in the American league was stopped by the Yankees, 5 to 2, but they still needed only four victories out of their 10 remaining games. Three triumphs, including a victory over the Yankees today, would bring about the same result. Yesterday's defeat left the Tigers leading the Yankees by six and one-half games.

PELS WIN, 3-2, TO EVEN SERIES

Vols' Rally In Seventh And Ninth Fall One Run Short Of Tie

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Choo-chooing down to the bayou country Wednesday night, the New Orleans Pelicans could reflect happily upon a 3 to 2 triumph over the Nashville Volunteers which enabled them to even up the Southern association pennant playoff series Wednesday.

In pinning back the Vols, Larry Gilbert's men accomplished several other feats, such as hurling back at its heels a ninth-inning Volunteer rally, wiping out the ignominy of Tuesday's 17 to 11 Nashville victory, and presenting a reserve catcher named Charles "Greek" George, who could get four hits in four times at bat.

Added to his Tuesday performance of two out of two, Mr. "Greek" George, substituting for the ailing Autry, now has 1,000 per cent in six times of series batting. The 5,000 or so fans who witnessed Wednesday's performance were cheered only by the thought that Gilbert hasn't brought more of his substitutes into the fray. Mr. Lance Richbourg, however, and his Volunteers, were not frustrated by anything after the game ended, except a very vague memory of a game they played with somebody on September 18.

Not that they didn't merit and receive the plaudits of the throng Wednesday, for Richbourg and his boys staged a gallant effort in the last of the seventh and ninth innings to stave off defeat and they almost did.

With the Pelicans leading by three big runs to one, the sturdy Vol first sacker, Grantham, stepped to the plate on the opening of the eighth, and cracked out a single. When Cuccinello then doubled off the center field wall, and Grantham scored, it looked like the Vols were breaking loose again as they had in the seventh. Tuesday, Ducker fled out and Crouch grounded out, scoring Cuccinello, however. Stafford and Rodda followed with singles that knocked Galehouse out of the box, but Richbourg rolled out to the new pitcher, Al Milnar.

The final effort to tie the score or win in the last half of the ninth inning again brought the crowd to its feet, but Lady Luck was a little fatigued after chasing the Vols all over the base paths Tuesday. She made Byron Speece, the ace Vol hurler, the goat of Wednesday's game—if there must be a goat. After Cuccinello grounded out, Ducker singled, and Crouch sent Ducker to second on another single. Here it was that Manager Richbourg called in Speece to bat for Stafford.

With the winning runs on base, Speece hit into a double play. The Nashville team will leave for New Orleans Thursday.

BROWNS SHADE BOSTON

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The Browns scored three runs in one inning Wednesday and defeated the Boston Red Sox, 3 to 2.

Johnny Welch was the victim of a St. Louis sixth inning attack which saw all the Brown's tallies counted. Lefty Grove then relieved Welch and gave but one hit and no runs in two innings.

Boston played without the aid of Rick Ferrell, their catcher, who with his brother, Wes, Red Sox pitcher, was suspended for Tuesday's run-in with Umpire Louis Kolls.

Tigers Stage Another Stiff Drill For Opener

The Neville high school squad was sent through another long drill yesterday in preparation for their opening game against Junction City high school at Forsyth park Friday night. The team will be given only a light workout today, Coach Percy Brown said.

Coach Brown has received no information on the Junction City squad, he said, and consequently he doesn't know just what to expect Friday night. However, the Tigers have defeated the border city team in the past two seasons.

The game will start at 8:15 Friday night.

Mostly and L. Womack were the hitting stars of the game with two safeties each out of three times at bat.

2 CATTLE FOODS ARE ANNOUNCED

One Looks Like Plug Tobacco, Other Like Brown Bread

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20.—(P)—Two new cattle foods, one looking like a plug of tobacco, the other like Boston brown bread, both offering aid for stock feeding in drought, were announced today.

The plug is made of molasses and cottonseed meal, the Boston brown bread of molasses and corn meal. Both use a new scientific principle for mixing molasses, which has been for many years a cattle fattening food, but difficult to handle because of its stickiness.

The new process was announced by Guy Leonard, a chemical engineer. He is well known among chemists as the man sent here from England in the World War to assist in developing an acetone process for use in making cordite.

Leonard takes all the stickiness out of the molasses by mashing it with cottonseed or corn oil. Into a hot pot he pours molasses and the meal desired for cattle feed. Mechanical whips keep the mixture stirring.

The heat first dries the water out of the molasses so that it turns into a sugary powder. If molasses should be removed in this form it would turn back into molasses quickly by absorbing water from the air.

In the hot pot after the molasses becomes powdered sugar, the heat begins to boil oil out of the cottonseed or the corn meal. For this vegetable oil the dry molasses has such affinity that a film of oil encloses every grain of dry molasses.

In this form the molasses stays permanently dry. The mixture can be pressed into cakes which look like tobacco plugs, or used in a state resembling crumbled Boston brown bread.

MORATORIUM LAW HEADED FOR TEST

Amendment to National Bankruptcy Act Held Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(P)—The farm mortgage moratorium amendment—passed by congress and approved by the president and argument over constitutionality—today apparently was headed for a supreme court test.

The amendment to the national bankruptcy act was held unconstitutional by United States District Judge W. Calvin Chestnut at Baltimore.

One of the co-authors of the amendment, Senator Frazier, Republican, North Dakota, was in record, even before the Chestnut ruling, as believing an early decision would be requested of the supreme court. The district court decision, based upon dismissal of petitions filed by two Maryland farmers, was looked upon as starting the case along the route to the high court.

President Roosevelt, when he signed the Frazier-Lemke bill, agreed it was loosely worded in some respects and would have to be strengthened by subsequent amendments.

Representative Lemke, the other author of the measure, said in discussing the decision that "apparently this particular court is very corporation-minded."

When Mr. Roosevelt enacted the measure, he took cognizance of one argument against it with the comment that:

"It has been alleged that insurance companies and other mortgagees will suffer severely through the use of this law by farmers to evade payment of debts within their capacity to meet. I do not subscribe to these fears. Whether the corporations proposed to take a direct hand in the court test of the amendment was not made known immediately.

STEPHENS GIVES DEFEAT REASONS

Blame Laid On Political Deals And Cotton Act Dissatisfaction

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 20.—(P)—United States Senator Hubert D. Stephens today issued a statement attributing his defeat for renomination by former Governor Theodore G. Bilbo in Tuesday's Democratic runoff primary to "political cross-currents and political deals" and "dissatisfaction with the effect of the Bankhead cotton act."

One of the 21 points in the Bilbo campaign program called for elimination of all restrictions on crop production.

"As to the cause of the result," Stephens said in his statement, "I shall say only that there were several political cross-currents and political deals which contributed to it. Too, dissatisfaction with the effect of the Bankhead cotton act played its part."

He did not elaborate on his reference to the Bankhead act. He said in his statement, which did not carry a congratulatory message for his political conqueror, that he had considered not announcing for renomination for a fourth term, but felt that he could be of more service with his long legislative experience than a new senator.

"Retiring from official life extending over 27 years," he said, "I have the satisfaction of knowing that my official record is unspotted. There has never been a charge of graft or corruption even in the most heated political campaign."

hose twisting slowly under low pressure. When he first went into the radio room, two or three minutes after being awakened by tramping feet about 3 a. m., Alagna said there was smoke but no fire at the radio. The smoke came from directly below the radio room, he said. It was there, Alagna told the board that mattresses and some combustible polish was carried. The polish, he said, was a paste which, when being used, was mixed with kerosene to make it more effective.

Alagna said that he had been told the kerosene was kept in a locker behind the radio room and that all the sailors, the deck department and the officers knew that it was there. When he had gotten the order to send the SOS and started back to the radio room, Alagna testified, the smoke was so dense that he blundered past the radio room and it was not until flames leaped up in front of him that he realized it and had to turn back.

The SOS was first sent at 3:25 a. m.

ALAGNA TESTIFIED

Blame Laid On Political Deals And Cotton Act Dissatisfaction

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—Harry Alagna, the "boss of the bowery" and known for his benevolence to down-and-outers of that part of Manhattan, was shot down in the gang manner last night.

A black motorcar drew up in front of the Monarch bar and grill, of which he was part owner, and one of the passengers called to Alagna, who was seated in front of the place. They talked briefly, and Alagna dropped, mortally wounded. The slayers fled.

Alagna was 39. Reserves from three police precincts were required to clear the streets where the murder was done—19 Bowery, near Pell street, main thoroughfare of Chinatown.

RELIEF LOTTERY BRINGS PROTESTS

Hearing For New York City Scheme Slated For Next Thursday

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—An avalanche of affliction—protests, prospect of court tests, and coolness on the part of Mayor LaGuardia—descended today on the plan for a municipal lottery.

A separate hearing for the scheme, part of a three-point program to raise relief funds, was tentatively for next Thursday, and Mayor LaGuardia said:

"They may convince me that we shouldn't undertake it."

The mayor conceded that in the event of a court test, there was but a slim chance that the legislation would be upheld.

Religious and civic organizations, pouring in their protests, laid plans for a mass demonstration Thursday at city hall.

The Brooklyn church and Mission Federation, denouncing the lottery as "unethical and unchristian," announced that 440 Protestant pastors have been asked to circulate round-robins in their congregations.

The American Protestant Defense league announced its opposition to the plan on the grounds that it is "immoral and degrading," contrary to the state and federal constitution, and a Tammany trick to bring disrepute on the fusion administration.

The lottery resolution, adopted Tuesday by the board of aldermen, recognizes the "Municipal Supplement Relief association" as an agency to conduct a disguised lottery, to raise funds for unemployment relief.

Public hearings will be held next Tuesday on the other two measures in the three-point plan—a city income tax and a business tax.

CLEAN-UP DEMANDED

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 20.—(P)—Gov. O. K. Allen today told Mayor V. V. Lamkin of Alexandria in a sharply worded letter that he must close "vice dens" in his city or face possible "arrest and prosecution." The same message was addressed to Chief of Police C. C. O'Malley of Alexandria.

PLAYWRIGHT SUCCUMBS

NORWALK, Conn., Sept. 20.—(P)—Porter Emerson Browne, widely known playwright, whose play, "The Bad Man," starring the late Holbrook Blinn, ran on Broadway for a year, died today in the Norwalk hospital, where he had been a patient since June 7. He was 55 years old.

Approximately one-fourth of a man's life is spent developing and training his mind.

Death Threats Testimony Is Given In Slaying Case

DEFUNIAK SPRINGS, Fla., Sept. 20.—(P)—Testimony designed to show Mrs. Hattie Whipple made numerous threats upon the life of her husband, Ira Whipple, was in the records today as her trial and that of her two sons for his death entered the second day.

One witness said yesterday Whipple had admitted misconduct with another woman and it had been agreed by his wife and himself not to bring up the subject between them.

Several women neighbors testified Mrs. Whipple had made the threat that she or her sons, Stafford and Delmar, would kill Whipple if they caught him with a woman named in the testimony.

Testimony also was introduced to show Stafford bought for his mother the pistol identified as the one with which Whipple was shot.

Defense counsel sought to show Mrs. Whipple was in an over-wrought condition because of her husband's alleged misconduct.

Japanese Excited Over American Naval Plans

TOKYO, Sept. 20.—(P)—Vernacular newspapers today splashed the headlines "Japan the Target" and "Japan an Imaginary Enemy" over the announcement of Secretary Swanson's plans for the United States fleet's 1935 Pacific maneuvers, which call for operations in the Puget Sound-Hawaii-Alaska, triangle.

A spokesman for Admiral Mineo Osumi, naval minister, said "there is no reason for the Japanese navy to be sensitive concerning the American plans. All navies hold maneuvers and it always is necessary to have an imaginary enemy. We do not care to criticize the United States navy's choice of the theater of maneuvers against an imaginary foe." The same spokesman said it had not been decided where Japan would hold its maneuvers next year.

The newspapers also attached considerable importance to the departure of Rear Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto for London, to demand abolition of the naval tonnage ratios.

WOMAN CONTINUES BLOCKING TACTICS

Campaign Against Utilities Firm Unabated In Camden, N. J.

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 20.—(P)—Too many callers kept Mrs. Elsie Barnabie, young-looking mother of six, from sleeping as she laid on a cot over the pole hole before her home last night in her one-woman war against the Public Service Gas and Electric company.

It was Mrs. Barnabie's third night out. She began sitting over the hole at 2 p. m. Monday to keep the Electric company men from putting a new pole in until they gave her $500 and firewood.

She yielded yesterday morning, after 37 hours, to her husband, whose legs dangling in the pole hole likewise were enough to prevent the insertion of the pole.

Now they're taking turns. The neighbors and visitors get as much fun out of the performance as a circus and crowd around all hours of the day. They bring food, and blankets, and build fires. But at the same time, they keep the vigilants from sleeping.

They remembered grievances, they said, against light companies, and were sympathetic.

The Barnabies claim their light was turned off while one of their children was ill. The company denies this, saying its records show service was cut off during the summer while the occupants were away. Across the street the Di Renzo family is divided in its sympathies. Denry, the father, likes the idea of blocking the company men with their big truck, but he finds his son Joseph, a paralytic for nine years, cannot eat with the excitement nearby. Joseph, 23, has consumed milk only for the past two years.

If you feel low—don't gamble

Life insurance companies tell us that the gradual breakdown of the human body causes more deaths every year than disease germs

1 If your physical let-down is evidenced by lack of appetite... loss of weight... nervousness... sleeplessness... paleness... a tired feeling or lassitude caused by a lowered red-blood-cell and hemo-glo-bin content in the blood—then S.S.S. is waiting to help you... though, if you suspect an organic trouble, you will, of course, want to consult a physician or surgeon.

Make S.S.S. your health safeguard and, unless your case is exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food... sound sleep... and renewed strength.

2 Take a course of S.S.S. Remember, your present run-down condition may have been a slow, gradual process. Likewise, a reasonable time is required to rebuild full strength. S.S.S. is not a miracle worker—no rebuilding tonic is—but it is a scientifically proven and time-tested medicine. This is your guarantee of satisfaction. Its benefits are progressive... accumulative... and enduring.

3 Moreover, S.S.S. is not just a so-called tonic. It is a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also has the mineral elements so very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood. This two-fold purpose is important. Digestion is improved... food is better utilized... and thus you are enabled to better "carry on" without exhaustion—as you should naturally.

If your condition suggests a tonic... If you feel low... get a bottle of S.S.S.... take an appetizing portion just before meals. You will find it is truly a blood and body tonic. You should feel and look years younger with life giving and purifying blood surging through your body. You owe this to yourself and friends.

S.S.S. is sold by all drug stores in two convenient sizes. The $2 economy size is twice as large as the $1.25 regular size and is sufficient for two weeks treatment. Begin on the uproad today. S.S.S. is really an inexpensive way to better health and more happiness. So many have said— "S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again!"

Do not be blinded by the efforts of a few unethical dealers who may suggest that you gamble with substitutes. You have a right to insist that S.S.S. be supplied on request. Its long years of preference is your guarantee of satisfaction.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep... Vigor... Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness. If kidneys don't empty 3 times every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS... a doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS... the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-McClellan Co.
